UNTITLED (CONCRETE CHAIR)

The Untitled (Concrete Chair) was born out of the artistic experiments of artist Magnus Pettersen. A functional sculpture that bridges art and design, it is an object that re-interprets the use of concrete through a mix of bold form and explorations into colour and texture.

About the designer Magnus Pettersen

Magnus Pettersen is an artist with a passion to experiment with materials and concepts. His pieces present sculptural forms with a functional touch, with the meeting ground of art and design a key component of his work. Concrete, glass, mirror and wood are his materials of choice, as within lay the beauty of surprise that enriches his creative processes.
